MIT Technology Review ITALIA

25th Anniversary

25 years ago, founded by Alessandro Ovi and Romano Prodi, the first international edition of the Magazine for Innovation of MIT, Technology Review, was born. Today, renamed MIT Technology Review, there are also editions in Germany, Spain, Latin America, China, Singapore, Brazil, Russia. The Italian magazine (bimonthly) has become an integrated communication system with a daily on-line, newsletters and organization of events promoting young innovators, disruptive technologies and smart companies. The Italian Edition has strong cooperation with the industrial and academic world, in particular with IIT (Istituto Italiano di Tecnologia), Alma Graduate School (Bologna University), RieForum (Padova University).
